We can create full designs from the ground up, simply validate and document your designs, or handle upgrades to existing designs. If you need to review and correct your current drawings or produce new drawings, we have the experience to help.

Convert your prototype or mock-up....

...to full engineering drawings and operation manuals!

Price Technical Services was established in 2009 to provide engineering, support and documentation expertise to growing businesses. Our goal is to deliver a high-quality service that matches perfectly with the needs of the client.

Smaller companies, and companies that have previously not required engineering support, will find that we can provide just what is needed, simply and effectively, without unnecessary complications and burdens on the client's side. Larger clients with already established Engineering groups will benefit from the wide range of experience Price Technical Services has available and the cost-effective solutions we offer.
